DISCUSSION/POSSIBLE BOARD ACTION – Setting parameters for the weekly Board of Supervisors agenda. Little said that it is difficult for Board Administrative Aide Kayla Zwanziger to operate efficiently when there are no hard and fast deadline for agenda items. Zwanziger said the deadline should be based on when the supervisors want to see the agenda and for how long before it is finalized.

Moved by Little, seconded by Trelka to set the deadline for agenda items at noon on Thursday, with the preliminary agenda being sent to the supervisors and to individuals requesting items be placed on the agenda on Thursday afternoons, and with the final agenda going out on Friday, at the discretion of the administrative aide to the Board of Supervisors. Motion carried.

DISCUSSION/POSSIBLE BOARD ACTION – The proposed space study plan presented by INVISION Architecture. Tim Turnis and Angie Nees of Invision asked the supervisors for their reactions to the three-phased proposal that Invision presented to them after asking them for their priorities. Phase 1 addresses Pinecrest, including a new public health clinic; Phase 2 moves the Engineer's Office to the Secondary Roads Longfellow facility, and Phase 3 relocates other offices within the courthouse, moves the Election Office to the Juvenile Court Services building and moves JCS to the courthouse, all at an estimated cost of $23 million. The supervisors did not wish to commit themselves without further discussion among themselves and with the county's outside auditing firm (which will meet with the Board on May 3) and Finance Director James Perry, in order to determine eligibility of American Rescue Plan funds for different projects and to discuss other possible sources of funding. They asked Invision to return on May 10.

ANY REPORTS OR INFORMATION FROM THE BOARD. Schwartz thanked the Board for approving funding for the Middle Cedar River Management Authority, especially since it encouraged other member entities to contribute. Trelka said that Bob Lincoln of Elevate wishes to address the Board on May 3. White congratulated his grandson for being named player of the year by the Waterloo Warriors.
